

A photograph showing a classroom scene. In the foreground, a male student in a white shirt is seated, viewed from the side. Behind him, several other students are seated in rows. To the right, a female student in a white shirt and dark skirt is seated, looking down at a book or paper. In the background, more students are visible, some standing and some sitting, engaged in various activities. The room has wooden walls and floors.